KARMA FOUNDATION MAKES 3-YEAR COMMITMENT TO PLAN|NJ

DONOR
SPOTLIGHT

Families of individuals with disabilities need practical solutions to ensure that their loved ones are safe, secure, and thriving throughout their lifetime. With steadfast support from donors like Karma Foundation, we help families navigate and coordinate the many financial, legal and support services they need, now and in the future.

Since 2011, Karma Foundation has contributed more than $133,000 to PLAN|NJ, helping us secure independent living for individuals with significant disabilities who participate in our Family Support Services program. With this vital support, individuals in need receive a continuum of uninterrupted guardianship, advocacy, life planning and representative payee services that enable them to live well in their communities. Funding helps us provide practical assistance to help

LEGISLATIVE UPDATE: UNDERSTANDING THE SECURE ACT

BY DONALD D. VANARELLI, ESQ.

EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2020, Congress enacted the "Setting Every Community Up for Retirement Enhancement Act of 2019," also known as the SECURE Act. With limited exceptions, the Act applies to all qualified retirement accounts, such as IRAs (traditional and Roth), 401(k)s, 403(b)s, and similar plans. The biggest change under the new law is the elimination of "stretch" IRAs for most non-spouse retirement account beneficiaries. Importantly, there are exceptions to the SECURE Act for people with disabilities and/or chronically ill beneficiaries.

Before the act, a beneficiary could elect to receive payouts over his/her life expectancy, thereby "stretching" the receipt of those retirement benefits, reducing income tax liability on withdrawals, and allowing the remaining funds to continue tax-free growth. After the Act, most beneficiaries must now withdraw the retirement benefits by the end of the 10th year following the death of the Plan Owner.

Notably, the "stretch" will still work for some beneficiaries, including people with disabilities or chronically ill beneficiaries. If the disabled beneficiary is able to handle his/her own funds and is not on "means-based" government benefits such as SSI or Medicaid, that beneficiary may receive benefits outright. However, in most cases, the beneficiary of the retirement account(s) should be a supplemental needs trust ("SNT") for the benefit of that beneficiary with disabilities. If structured properly, the SNT will allow for the payout of IRA assets over the individual's life expectancy.

An SNT will only qualify for this treatment if the individual is the only beneficiary of the trust during his/her lifetime. Otherwise, the 10-year rule will apply.

This is a specialized area of the law with important tax consequences. Therefore, if your estate plan includes an SNT as beneficiary of your retirement assets, it is important to review that plan with an estate planning attorney.

Donald Vanarelli has been a practicing attorney for 38 years, admitted to practice law in NJ and NY. He is a Certified Elder Law Attorney, an Accredited Veterans Attorney and a founding member of the Academy of Special Needs Planners. Mr. Vanarelli is a recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Award from the New Jersey State Bar Association's Elder and Disability Law Section, recognizing Mr. Vanarelli's advocacy in elder and disability law, including a number of precedent-setting legal victories which advanced the rights of seniors and persons with disabilities.

manage concerns and live a good life. We coordinate health and wellness activities, assist people to maintain relationships with neighbors and friends, and help maintain safe and comfortable housing and a healthy lifestyle.

In 2016, PLAN|NJ received the Karma Foundation 20 for 20 Award, a special recognition given to 20 exceptional past grantees in celebration of the foundation's 20-year anniversary. And in 2019, the foundation made a 3-year commitment to PLAN|NJ to aid the individuals in the Family Support Services program in order to ensure there are no gaps in legal, fiduciary and advocacy support during this particularly challenging time.

Karma Foundation was established in 1996 to provide grants in support of organizations engaged in activities and programs in the areas of Arts & Culture, Autism, Education & Literacy, Health & Human Services and Development & Enrichment of Jewish Life.

A signature program supported by Karma Foundation is the recently-established Rutgers Center for Adult Autism Services (RCAAS), "a first-of-its-kind residential and day program for adults with ASD that will make an independent and fulfilling life possible." RCAAS provides on-campus supported employment at minimum wage, along with support regarding social issues, for young adults with autism attending the university. They are also developing assessment tools more suited for evaluating adults. Visit <https://rcaas.rutgers.edu/> for more information.

Karma Foundation Executive Director Dina Elkin recently stated, "As the mother of a 19-year-old with autism, I am keenly aware it can be emotionally difficult to plan for a loved one's future life after you're gone. No one wants to talk about it," she said. "But the tools and guidance PLAN|NJ provides meet people where they're at. They help families like ours prepare, both practically and emotionally." YOU'RE WELCOME!

We're happy you're happy... thank you for this recent review of PLAN|NJ staff and services:

"When it became clear that our son was on the autism spectrum (diagnosed only in adulthood) and that he would never be able to live a fully independent life, my husband and I became his legal guardians. But because we are aging and have no close relatives nearby, we knew we needed to put a plan in place for his future once we are gone. That is when we learned of Planned Lifetime Assistance of New Jersey (PLAN|NJ). From our initial encounter with this organization, it was clear how dedicated they all are to helping those in need. What we found was intelligence, compassion, deep knowledge of legal matters, and much more. We have needed help with the Department of Developmental Disabilities, hospitals, housing, all kinds of advice and support about all manner of things and in many areas. So many systems function poorly, if at all. PLAN|NJ has never let us down."
